The Center of Attraction

Many don't realize just how much of a "center of attraction" Montevallo High School is. Not only is our town located in the geographic center of Alabama, it also contains numerous historic landmarks including ... gasp ... MHS!

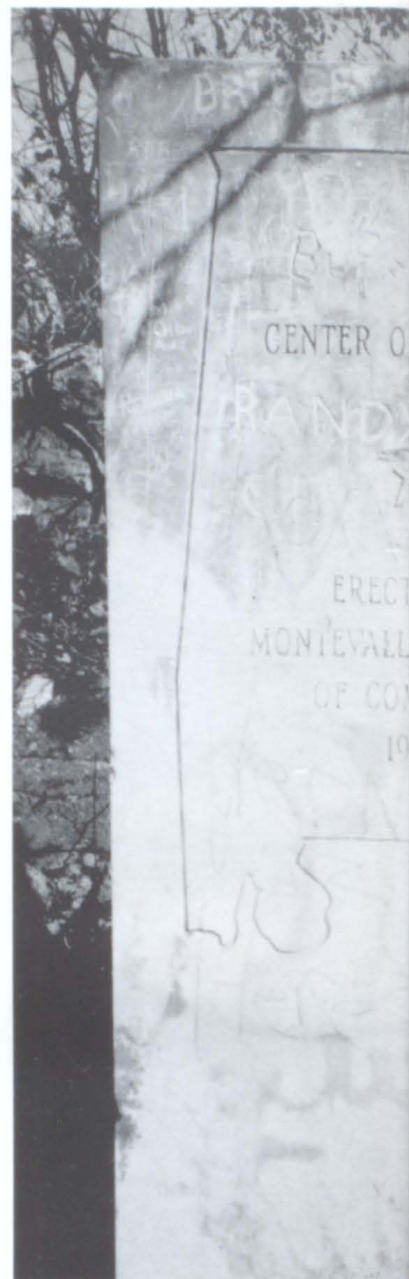

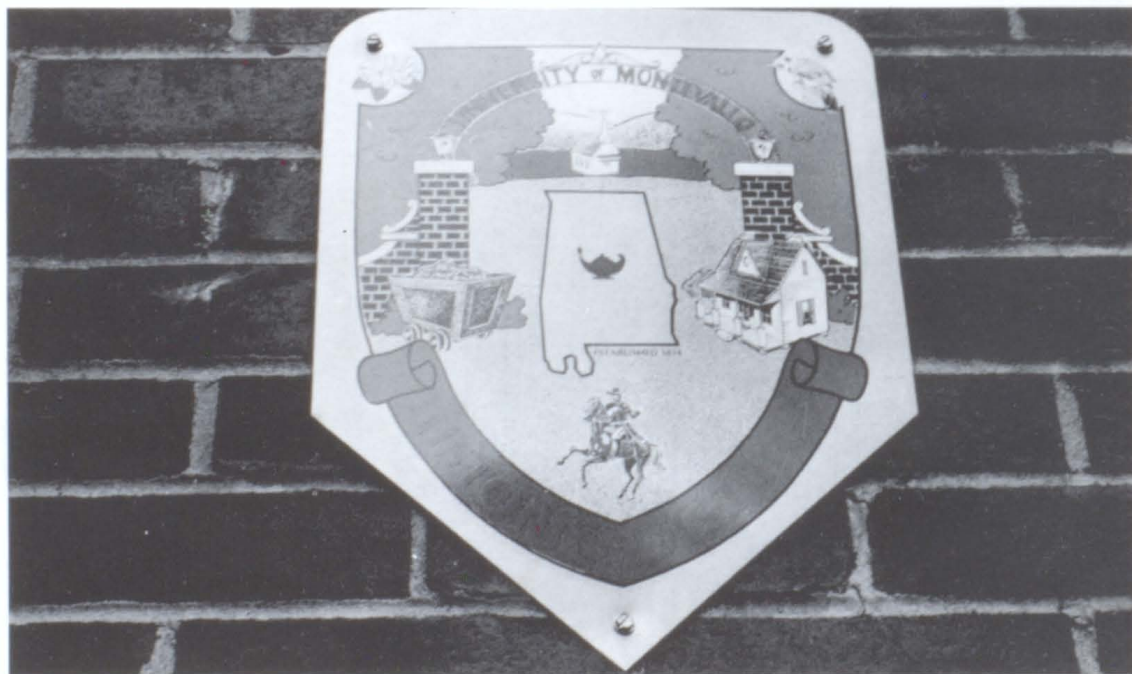

In fact, one may have noticed the plaques posted outside both the main building and the Alice Boyd building establishing Montevallo High School as a historical district. Our school has also prospered both educationally and facility wise as new faculty have been added, and the gym and agricultural building renovated. Also, on the subject of education, Channel 1, a Teen News broadcast watched during homeroom, has been established to keep students up-to-date with what is going on in the world today.

For all these reasons and many others, MHS can truly be called "The Center of Attraction" ... at least in our eyes!

This plaque designates Montevallo as a historical district.

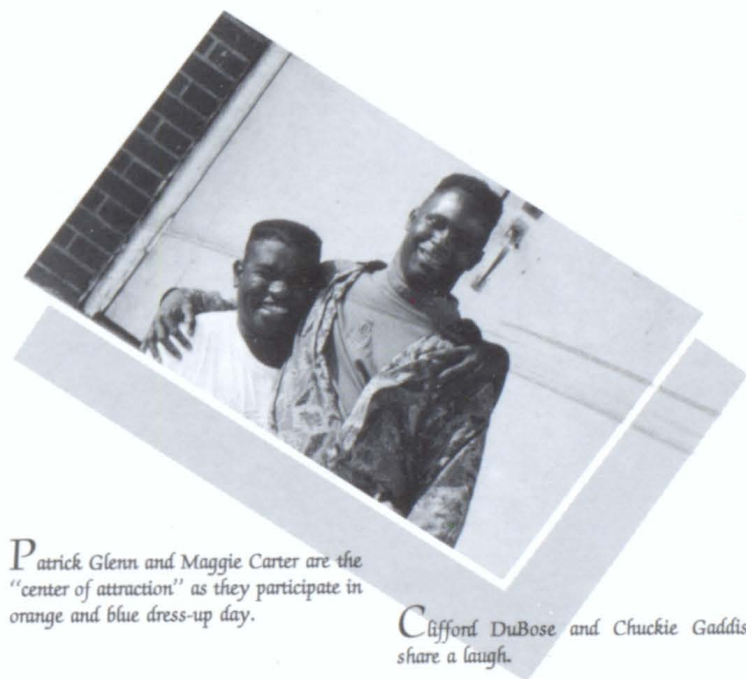

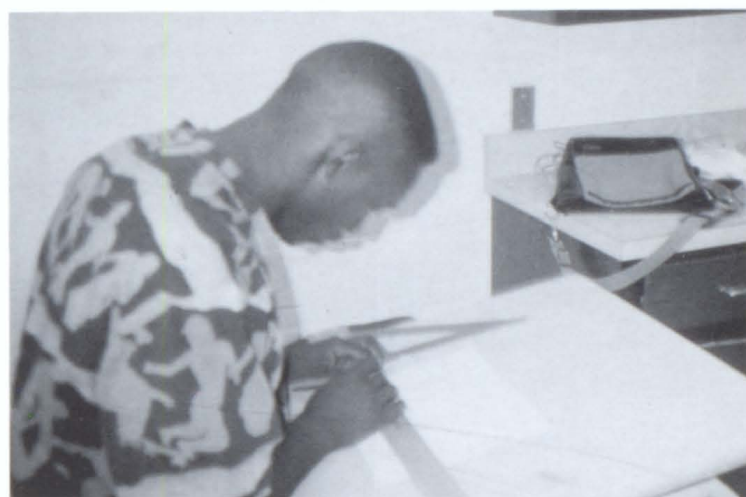

Miss DeMent is always the "center of attraction."

HORTON'S HEROES

The 1990-91 Montevallo High School Varsity Baseball Team started their season off right and only seemed to get better. The team succeeded in winning eleven out of twenty-one games. This enabled them to proceed all the way to the state playoffs in which they made it to the second round before being eliminated. Head Coach Horton stated, "I was glad we made it to the playoffs for the first time. All the players have improved a lot since last year." MHS students and fans expect the Varsity Baseball Team to be even better in the years to come.

Raybon's Crusaders

The 1990-91 Montevallo B-Team, coached by Kevin Raybon, had a very successful season considering the tough schedule the team had to endure. The eleven man team finished with a total of seven wins and six disappointing losses despite the lack of pitching. Coach Raybon was very pleased with the overall team effort.

The Peer Helpers, sponsored by Mrs. Henderson and Mrs. Colley, worked to prevent Prom and alcohol related accidents from happening this year. Certain peer helpers were chosen and asked not to speak or socialize with any other students at school. At the end of the school day there was an assembly explaining how each of the students that were chosen would have died from an alcohol related event the night of Prom. The assembly gave people a chance to realize what their life would be like without some of their friends. The program helped many students understand the dangers of drinking.

A Night

The 1990-91 Junior-Senior Prom was held at the Highland Racquet Club, May 3, 1991. The couples began arriving at eight o'clock. The Highland Racquet Club was the perfect setting for the prom.

Some of the Juniors that helped with the decorations were: Heather Sullivan, Pam Smitherman, Phillip Reid, Lani George, Danny Reid, and Janet Parker. Mrs. Dickson and Mr. Hunt were the teachers supervising them.

There was a senior leadout which recognized the seniors and their dates. After leadout everyone danced to "When I'm With You."

Doug Pate escorts his date, Jennifer McKinnon, during senior leadout.

Edward Patrick and Lea Gaddis enjoy the night while dancing to the theme song.

Phillip Reid and Kim Avery gaze into each other's eyes while taking a break from dancing.

The Next

What has 12 years of school brought about? A moment of graduation. Graduation into the real world. A time for the 1991 class of 86 seniors to go their separate ways. Some to college, some to work, many maybe just taking it easy. But they all share something special, the moment of graduation. A tear drops from memories of the past, and a smile brightens a face. Because a phase of life has passed — this phase called high school — life will never be the same for the seniors. But the memories will always be there.

Part of the senior class awaits the beginning of the graduation ceremony.

The 1991 senior class becomes aware that the graduation ceremony isn't all it's cracked up to be.

At the beginning of August each year, band camp begins. The Montevallo Troubadours all look forward to it because they see the friends they haven't seen all summer. The only bad part is waking up early every morning and practicing in the hot sun until noon. When school starts, they practice after school until the last football game or band contest.

WHAT'S COOL AROUND SCHOOL

This year KEDS were popular as usual, but they were seen in different styles.

Levi's were worn by both girls and boys at Montevallo High School.

Cowboy Boots were popular this year at Montevallo High School.

The DUCK HEAD symbol was seen on pants, skirts, sweatshirts, tee-shirts, and shorts.

Juniors and Seniors wear class rings of all shapes, sizes and colors.

Many people wore backpacks around campus to carry all their books.

Everyone has key chains or at least everyone wants a car key to put on a key chain.

Some students wore these unique shoes called Birkenstocks.

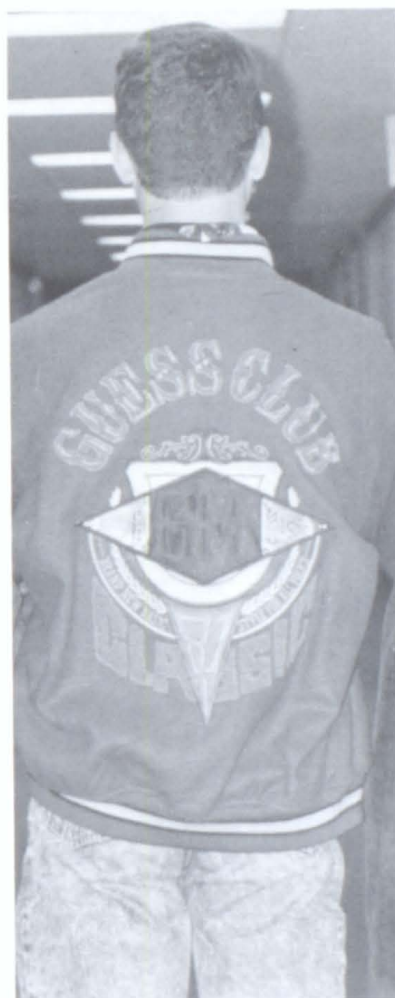

Here is an example of the braided belts that both guys and gals wore this year.

Popular again this year were the stylish suede bucks.

Displayed here are a few of the many shoes that were sported this year.

This student sports a jacket with the familiar, Guess? emblem stitched across the back.

As the year brought on changes in the school, it also brought on changes in fads. Many things that were popular not long ago were thrown into fad history quicker than you can say "bell bottoms." Here are just a few of the many fashions that entered MHS during the course of the year: "braided belts, duck heads, (shorts) leather boots, beaded necklaces and the ever popular Guess? clothing."

Beaded necklaces were also frequently worn at MHS this year.

FALL FEVER

By the month of August the MHS football season was already underway. The young athletes worked hard all summer long running and lifting weights to get in shape for fall practice. The Bulldogs practiced twice a day for a week in preparation for the upcoming season.

Coach Kevin Raybon tries to get a little intensity and enthusiasm into some of the players.

Noah Miller and Myron Dixon work on tackling in practice.

Building a Pep Squad

Hard work and hours of practice is the name of the game and the name of the sport is cheerleading. The Varsity Cheerleaders spend most of their free time practicing to make Montevallo's Pep Squad the best it can be. They travel to clinics during the summer to improve their abilities for the year ahead. Camp gives them a chance to learn new routines.

Full of spirit and smiles are the 1991-1992 Varsity cheerleaders with a staffer of the UCA clinic.

Jennifer McKinnon, Stacie Siener, and Mollis Cottingham take time out from their break to pose for a picture at the United Cheerleading Association clinic at the University of Montevallo.

The Varsity Cheerleaders put in a lot of hard work in and out of school to make their squad the best. Here, Paula Stano practices a basket toss aided by Rachel McKinney, Jennifer McKinnon, and Lacey Thomas.

Jennifer McKinnon concentrates on the camera while Janet Parker concentrates on a cheer.

After a lot of hard work and practice the girls have built a successful squad AND pyramid.

NEW ARRIVALS

As the new school year opens at MHS, new courses were offered. Mass Communications is the class taught by Mr. Larry Haynes. The class held live reading over the closed-circuit television in the school. Science teacher, Mr. Walley Blanton, teaches Principles of Technology. This class deals with the hands-on physics instead of the theories. Mechanical Drawing is the new part of the new addition to the AG building. It is taught by Mr. Tony Berry. Some of the students use this class for the near future.

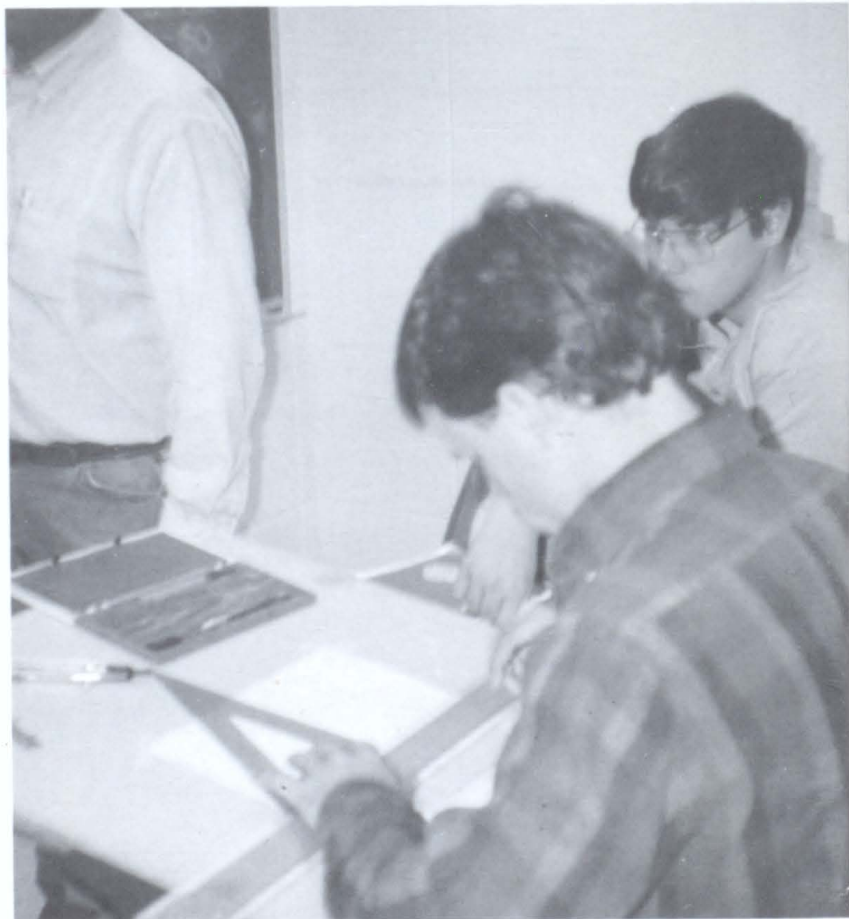

Problems concern Keith Edwards and Darrell Spears in Principles of Technology.

Working 9-5

Montevallo High School features VIP, a program to help students get an early start on life. This is possible by allowing a small portion of the day, to go to work, at their jobs.

Rodney Craig stacks bags of onions during work at Western Supermarket.

Eric Ingram bags groceries for a customer at Western Supermarket.

Stamler Monk retrieves a VCR for a customer at Czeskaleba Appliance.

Robert Livingston files customer work orders at Czeskaleba Appliance.

Amos Gilmore sacks some food for a customer at McDonald's.

William Burns sacks groceries for a customer at Western Supermarket.

I WORK AND GET THE JOB DONE

Many students of Montevallo High School think ahead to their future by attending trade school. There are a various number of classes to take at Trade School. "Trade School is fun and it has and can make a difference in my life," says Henry Jones.

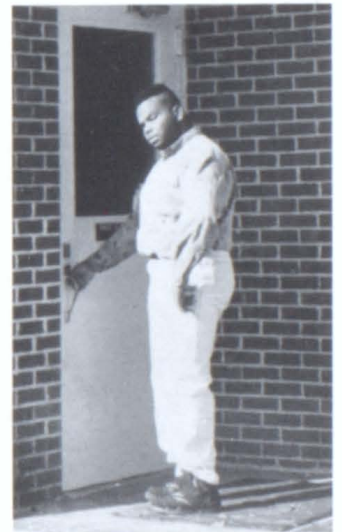

Henry Jones prepares to sample a masterpiece that has been fixed in the kitchen of the trade school.

Danny Lucas decides to find the problems of the car that he is fixing in Auto Shop at Trade School.

Allen Smith double checks to make sure that everything is placed properly in the dishwasher and seems to take pride in it.

Senior Joe Lacey looks as if to decide whether to go in or to just stay out.

QUEEN FOR A DAY

Former queen Crystal Minor awaits to crown the new queen.

1991 Homecoming Court is (l-r) Emily Sullivan, Detra Stallworth, Casie Williams, Shelly Glenn, Queen Tracy Battle, Heather Herron, Karen Junkins, Baye Taff, and Kelli Fountain.

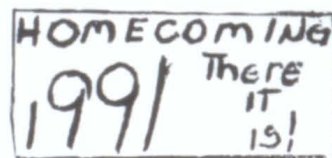

Sophomore court Detra Stallworth and Baye Taff laugh as they ride down Main Street.

The Senior court, Tracy Battle, Heather Herron, and Shelly Glenn wait for the parade to begin.

Senior Tracy Battle sheds tears of joy as it is announced she is Homecoming Queen.

This year Homecoming was celebrated not only by students of M.H.S. but also by some of the alumni. The class of 1971 was present to carry on the tradition and the spirit of homecoming. The homecoming queen this year was Tracy Gwyn Battle. "I was so surprised and it took me about 2 days to really believe that I was a queen. I had a lot of fun because I was running with friends," says Tracy. "I'm so happy she got to be queen and I hope I can share the joy of being queen my senior year," says Detra Stallworth. "Even though the freshmen won the homecoming competition the seniors get the real prize . . . we get to leave," says Melinda Smitherman. Hopefully the tradition will continue throughout the years.

Everything I Do, I Do For You.

Class of 71 share their pride with a Bulldog float.

Homecoming week was filled with fun for all. It consisted of competitions between the different grades. Games were: Dress-Up Day, Orange and Blue Day, and Backwards Day. Winners of Dress-Up Day were Freshman, Eric Simmons, and Senior, Paula Stano. Victors for Orange and Blue Day were a tie between Freshman, Chris Fulmer and Seniors, Maggie Carter and Patrick Glenn. Backwards Day was won by Freshmen Stacie Morgan and Matthew Mieux.

The Bulldogs show their true colors with a banner full of spirit designed by Senior, Amy Benson.

A Year to Remember

Freshman Earrick Simmons got a hardy laugh and round of applause from the student body when he made a grand entrance as a hornet on costume day.

Seniors, Tracy Williams and Lani George hold the banner high to let everyone know just who the Seniors are.

Juniors Kristy Nixon and Amy Thrash proudly present the junior banner which says "Exterminate the Hornets."

Dan Adams, Andrea Sapp, and Mat Mieuire of the freshman class "hammer the hornets" during the homecoming parade.

Because the senior class won the penny count, Ms. Belisle kisses a pig during the pep rally.

Seniors, David Moore, Jeremy Broner, and Jason Whitehurst "chill" on the senior float before the parade.

Maggie Carter, a winner of the orange and blue contest, shows her school spirit.

Riders on the senior float, Devon Wlodyga and Melinda Smitherman.

Chris Fulmer, an orange and blue winner for the freshman class.

Screaming fans from all classes showing their spirit at the pep rally.

Michael Reid poses as Eddie Munster.

Many students participated in the costume contest.

Homecoming has long been a tradition at Montevallo High School. The student body at MHS makes each year unique from all the rest. Homecoming and Spirit Week are the two events that students anticipate throughout the year. Montevallo has many different activities including Costume

Day, Orange and Blue Day, Backward Day, and Judging on Hallways. The week culminates in a parade where floats and cheers are judged and there is a Pep Rally at Theron Fisher Stadium where students from the Middle and Elementary School are invited to attend.

The Freshmen make sure their float is in working order before the parade begins.

Seniors, Maggie Carter and Patrick Glenn are the best example of school spirit, all decked out in orange and blue.

Sophomore, David Potter and Junior, Tim Jones have an identity crisis on Costume Day when they dressed as each other.

Students from the Elementary School get just as excited as the High School students during the Pep Rally.

Members of the Montevallo Marching Troubadours get the school fired up with a little musical inspiration.

Brown Baggin' It

Montevallo started this year with a bang. The first Friday of the year the school held a picnic and pep rally. The picnic is a great break for the students to get to know each other. The Freshman and Senior students were able to meet in the Big Brother/Big Sister program which was held during the picnic.

A memorial for a student, Dinky Gaddis also occurred during this school activity. The picnic was a wonderful time for the new and old students of Montevallo High.

Most students spent the picnic time meeting and talking with new students.

Dancing to the music is how these students like to spend their time at the picnic.

Students enjoy laughing and talking while they are having a sack lunch during the picnic.

A very popular place for students during school activities is the stairway.

Michelle Hall looks for a place to sit while her friends follow.

Future Leaders

The 1991-92 Montevallo High School Class Officers have worked very hard to make this year one of the best years ever. Each grades' officers worked on a specific task to contribute to the school. The biggest and most exciting contribution class officers make is organizing the activities in class competitions for Homecoming. The Junior officers also play a major role in planning the Junior-Senior Prom. The students vote for their own class officers and get to choose their president, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer. The Class Officers work hard to make school as fun as it can be.

Senior Class officers are President Mike Reid, Vice President Maggie Carter, Secretary Lani George, and Treasurer Beth Milstead.

Math Minds At Work!

The Algebra 2 Team consists of: Baker Lawley, Drew DeHaven, Brandon Adams, Baye Taff, Jenny Clayton, and Paul Boyd.

The Advanced Math Team consists of: Bill Davies, Gabrielle Metz, Mike Reid, Lacey Thomas, Beth Milstead, Lee Wynn, Christi Holsomback and Devon Wlodyga.

The MHS math team spends their free time working to make the math team the best it can be. They meet after school once a week to prepare for upcoming tournaments. While most of us are sleeping in on Saturdays, the math team works to bring home a trophy. The math team is split into four smaller teams: Algebra 1, Algebra 2, Geometry, and Advanced Math.

The Geometry Team consists of: Stacey Epperson, Amy Fochtman, David Potter, Christy Rhodes, Meredith Cobb, Kathy Weese, Theresa Williams, Jofin Johnson and Kevin Gardner.

Montevallo Scholars

The 1991 and '92 Scholars Bowl Team has been working their brains trying to get the answers just right. Sophomore Jenny Clayton says, "We did not do as well as we had expected because of the new members that have come in, but I think by the end of the year the team will be more together and more of a team than we are now." Advisor Steve Latham says, "I feel the team has done OK, not well enough for their potential but OK."

Mr. Latham, K. Gardner, D. Holsomback, B. Rodgers, C. Alley, B. Davies, J. Pizzitola, L. Wynn, B. Boothe, D. Wlodyga, Mrs. Williams, L. George, A. Freeman, J. Clayton, T. Williams, M. Cottingham, S. Epperson, and A. Morris.

Stacey Epperson reads in front of the class to help them to learn about their subject.

Amy Morris, Jenny Clayton, and Lani George broaden their minds as they look for more knowledge.

Mollis Cottingham and Lee Wynn work to find the answer to the problem they are faced with.

STRIVING TO BE THE BEST

On May 20, 1991, 20 M.H.S. students were tapped into an elite group of people. The students were rewarded for their hard work, leadership and character qualities by being tapped into the National Honor Society. Students can be tapped into the Honor Society in the 11th and 12th grade but must have an overall average of 85 with no semester grade of an F.

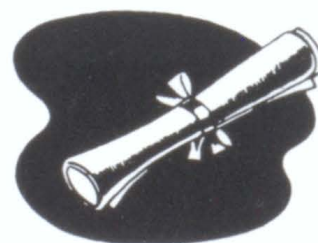

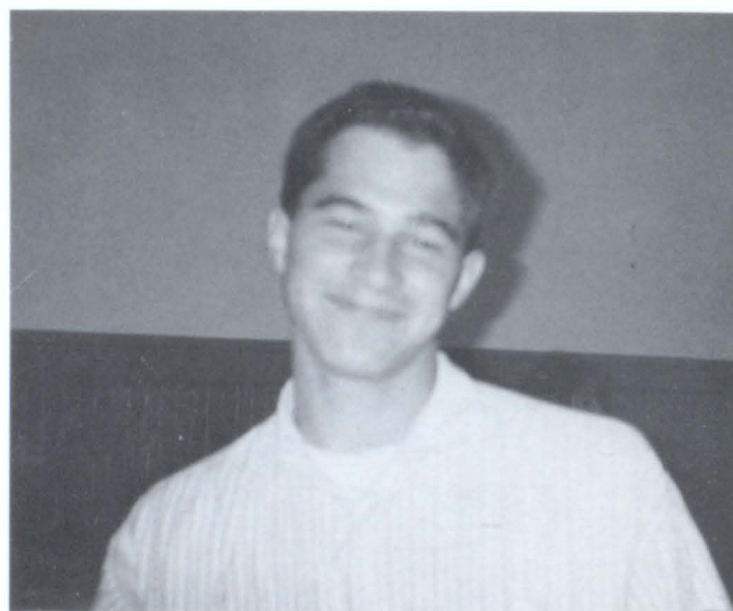

The new members of the 1991 Honor Society.

Lani George signs the new roll of the Honor Society as others wait eagerly.

Mike Reid displays a winning smile as he was just tapped into the Honor Society.

Leaders of the Pack

Montevallo High School features a very active Student Council. These people are called upon to be leaders to others, and to help younger students. Other than this, the Student Council also plans a lot of the events that take place during the school year, such as food drives, toys for tots, and Homecoming and other dances.

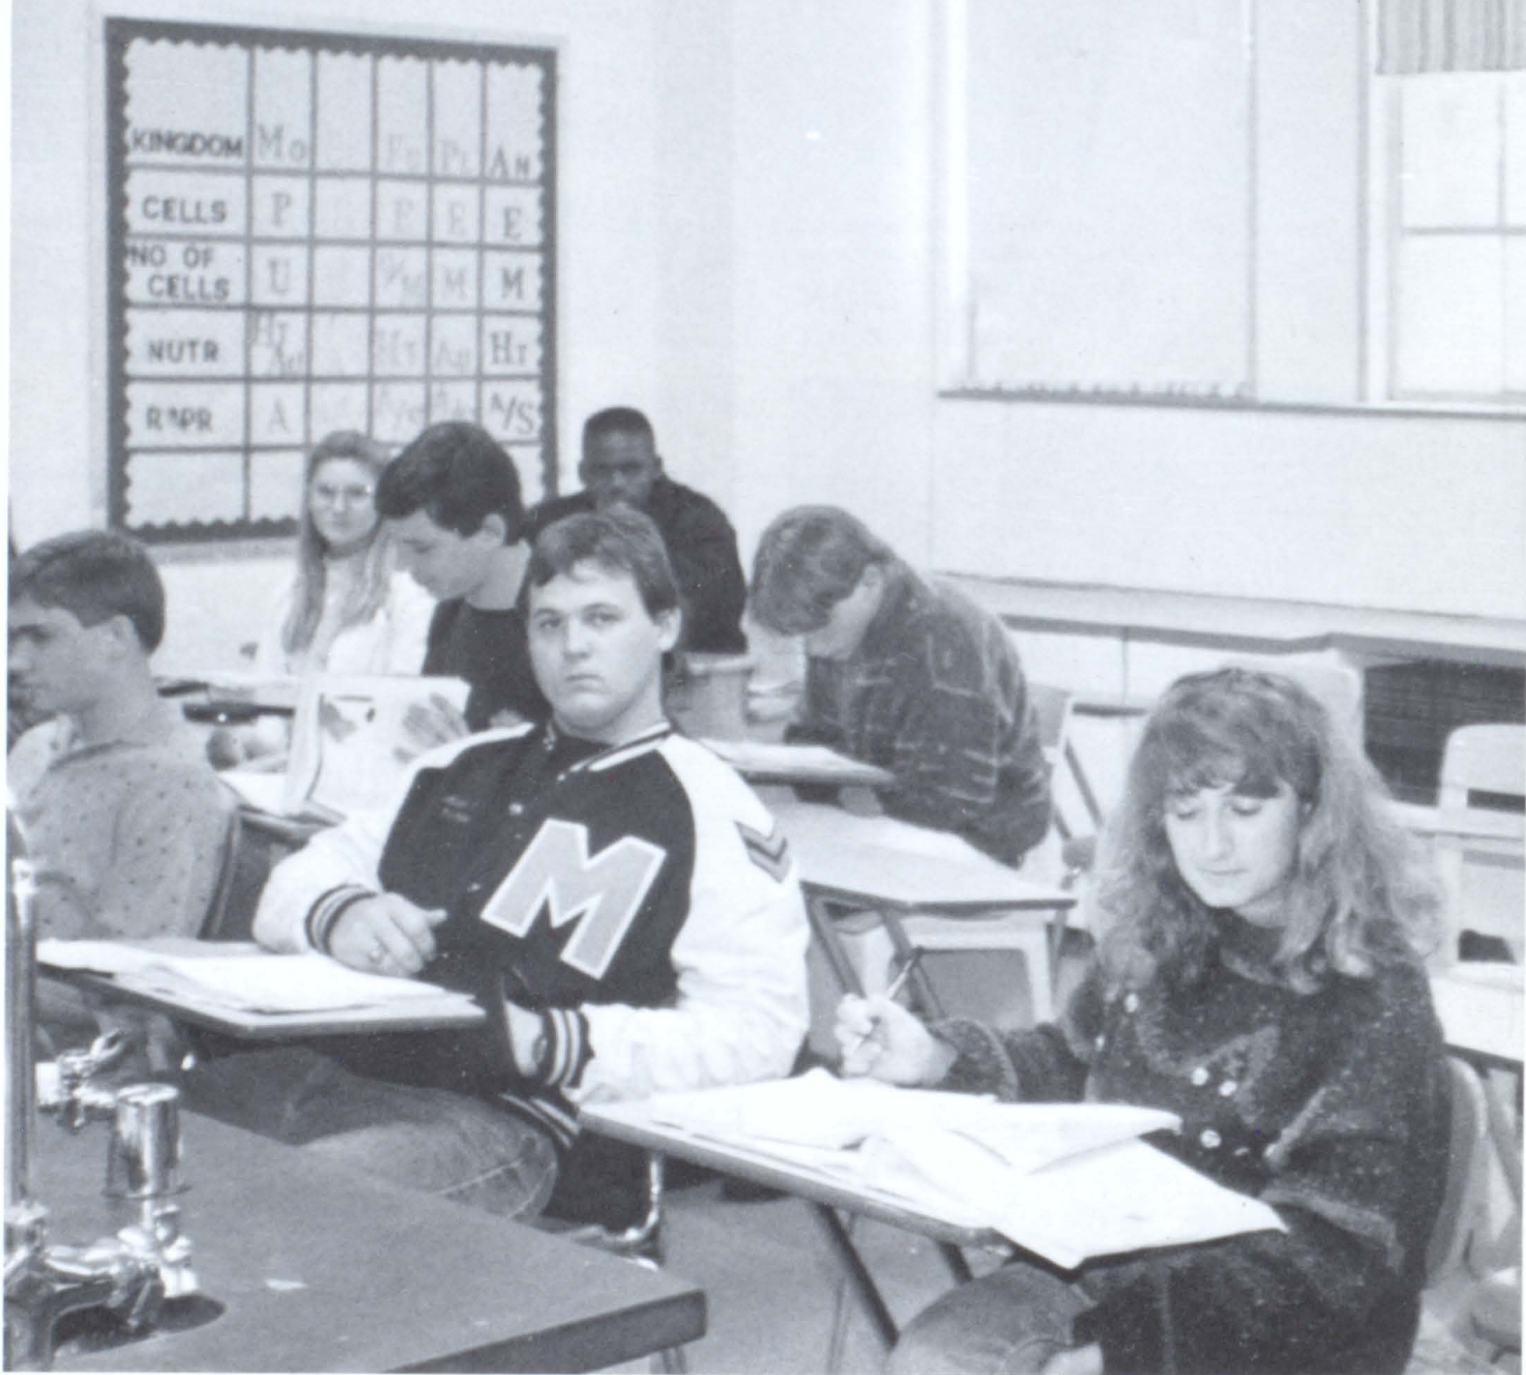

The Student Council Officers are: Brad Goggins, Publicity Chairman; Thandi McClain, Treasurer; Demisha Williams, Secretary; Shelly Glenn, Vice-President; Lee Wynn, President.

Sophomores

Sophomores are no longer Freshmen, but not yet upper classmen. Sophomores are facing many new experiences every day. Many Sophomores are turning sixteen and getting their license. They are learning about responsibility and starting to grow up. Sophomores are just getting started in varsity sports. Most Sophomores, for the first time, are beginning to look ahead to the future and what it will bring. They look forward to the years ahead of them and begin to see the end of high school. Sophomores are stuck with a new wave of challenges though. They must take harder classes and make better grades. It's a dirty job but someone has to do it.

After band camp one morning, a few Sophomores gather around to tell and laugh at jokes.

Being a Junior is an exciting time for high school students. You finally get comfortable with the school surroundings and you are no longer considered an underclassman. The '93 class of Juniors worked very hard at homecoming to try to place first. At the beginning of the school year the Juniors ordered their class rings and received them at the beginning of December. Now the Juniors are looking forward to planning the Junior-Senior Prom. More than anything they are looking forward to becoming Seniors next year.

The Wonder Year . . .

"What am I going to do with the rest of my life?" That thought has traveled through the minds of the Seniors at MHS more than once since they began receiving college pamphlets in the mail.

A chapter in their lives is ending and a new one is about to begin. Many will go to college and many will begin to tackle the working world.

It was an exciting year for the Seniors. They came in second after a close race with the Freshman class during Homecoming week. They also got to see and be a part of the state play-offs that we have not been a part of for many years.

Many of the Seniors experienced college already by taking classes at the University of Montevallo. Many admitting to wishing they would have done better to prepare for college, but are glad to begin college full time next fall.

The clarinets play beautifully as they march down main street.

BANDSTAND BLUES

The 1991-92 Troubadours have really got it going on. They first started the year out just the average band, but by the time the football season was over the season was most remembered for the band's spectacular and breathtaking performances. The show consisted of "Samba de Orfeux," a drum feature, "Saturday in the Park," and the dramatic finish "The Phantom of the Opera." The band earned top billing when they were chosen Band of the Week by Channel 6 News.

The band was also a part of two band competitions. The first competition was held in Guntersville where they received all one's. The second competition was held in Milton, Florida where the band made excellent ratings. They've definitely got it going on!

Senior and Drum Major Chris Alley directs the band in a melody.

The trumpets give the audience a little sample of what they can do on the field.

Adrianne Taylor waits patiently for the football game to begin.

THE FABULOUS

FOUR

The 1991-92 Majorettes had a terrific year. This past summer they attended a Majorette Camp at the University of Alabama, where they were invited to the Gator Bowl. Although there were only four majorettes this year, they showed that was all they needed. The majorettes also attended two competitions with the marching band in Lake Guntersville and Milton, Florida where they received superior ratings. The sponsor this year was Mrs. Jane Clayton, an eighth grade teacher from Montevallo Middle School.

Brooklyn White taps her foot to the beat so she won't be behind.

Mr. Weese rehearses for a performance that the band will put on that night.

Mr. Weese decides to take it easy and let it go.

The Montevallo High School Symphonic Band is loved and cited upon with superiority. The band for the past 21 years has made it to District and State competitions where in most cases it received all excellent ratings.

The Symphonic Band attended District competition during the month of March and from there the band traveled to Florida for a three day stay. While in Florida the band visited water and amusement parks and also a Luau. The Symphonic Band will always make a good impression of how real music is supposed to be.

MAKIN' HEADLINES

Jack Clark and Kathy Weese admire Beth Milstead's profile.

Caught in mid-sprint, Joy Draper carries Christmas ornaments under her chin.

The 91-92 SPOTLIGHT Staff certainly kept up its reputation again this year! They attended a workshop at Shades Valley High, and also won two First Places; the Columbia Scholastic Press Contest, and the National Scholastic Press Contest. Both are national contests.

Melanie Wlodyga is disturbed as she hurries to meet her deadline.

SPOTLIGHT members include: (Bottom L-R) Melanie Wlodyga, Andy Roberts, Bram Fuller, Benji Hunt, Stephanie Allen, Pam Smitherman, Ann Shepard. (Middle L-R) Beth Milstead, Misty Montalbano, Joy Draper, Shelly Glenn, Stacey Wallace, Kathy Weese, Christy Fletcher, Jenny Clayton, Judy Kemp. (Top L-R) Ed Davies, Ethan Muehlbauer, Alan Cecil, Paul Boyd, Jack Clark, Lee Wynn, and Sponsor Larry Haynes.

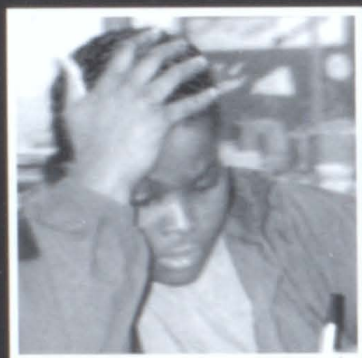

The 1990-91 Staff won first place in the Amer. Scholastic Press Assoc. Contest/Critique. "I just thought it would show the strengths and weaknesses of what they did," said Bill Hunt.

This year the Montevallo Bulldogs had one of the most memorable seasons ever. The Bulldogs made it all the way to state for the first time since 1984, by defeating the Jemison Panthers. Coach Vakakes and Senior Brent Baugh commented that this year Montevallo showed more pride and spirit than ever before.

Team captains for the 1991 season were Lance Gibson and Noah Miller; Most Outstanding Defensive Back — Brent Baugh and La'Charles King; Most Outstanding Defensive Linemen — Brent Baugh, Daniel Bunn, William "Weo" Burns, and Freddie Green; Most Outstanding Offensive Back — Noah Miller; Coach's Award — Robbie Hawks. These awards were given out at the 1991 Football Banquet which was held at the University of Montevallo on December 19th.

"Behind Every Good Man Is An Even Better Team of Women."

The Lady Bulldogs have been practicing since November to make their team the best and so far the hard work has paid off. Coach Johnye Horton led the ladies to a winning 1991-92 season. The Ladies played a total of 19 games this past year, not including the Shelby County Tournament, Area Tournament, and Sub-State Playoffs. The Shelby County Tournament was held February 3 through 7. The Lady Dogs hosted the Area Tournament at home on February 27th against the only other team in our area, Jamison. They have already been defeated twice by Montevallo.

Jemison and Montevallo both advanced to Sub-State. Team member Maggis Carter said, "We had a good season because we had five returning seniors and I feel we provided good leadership for the team."

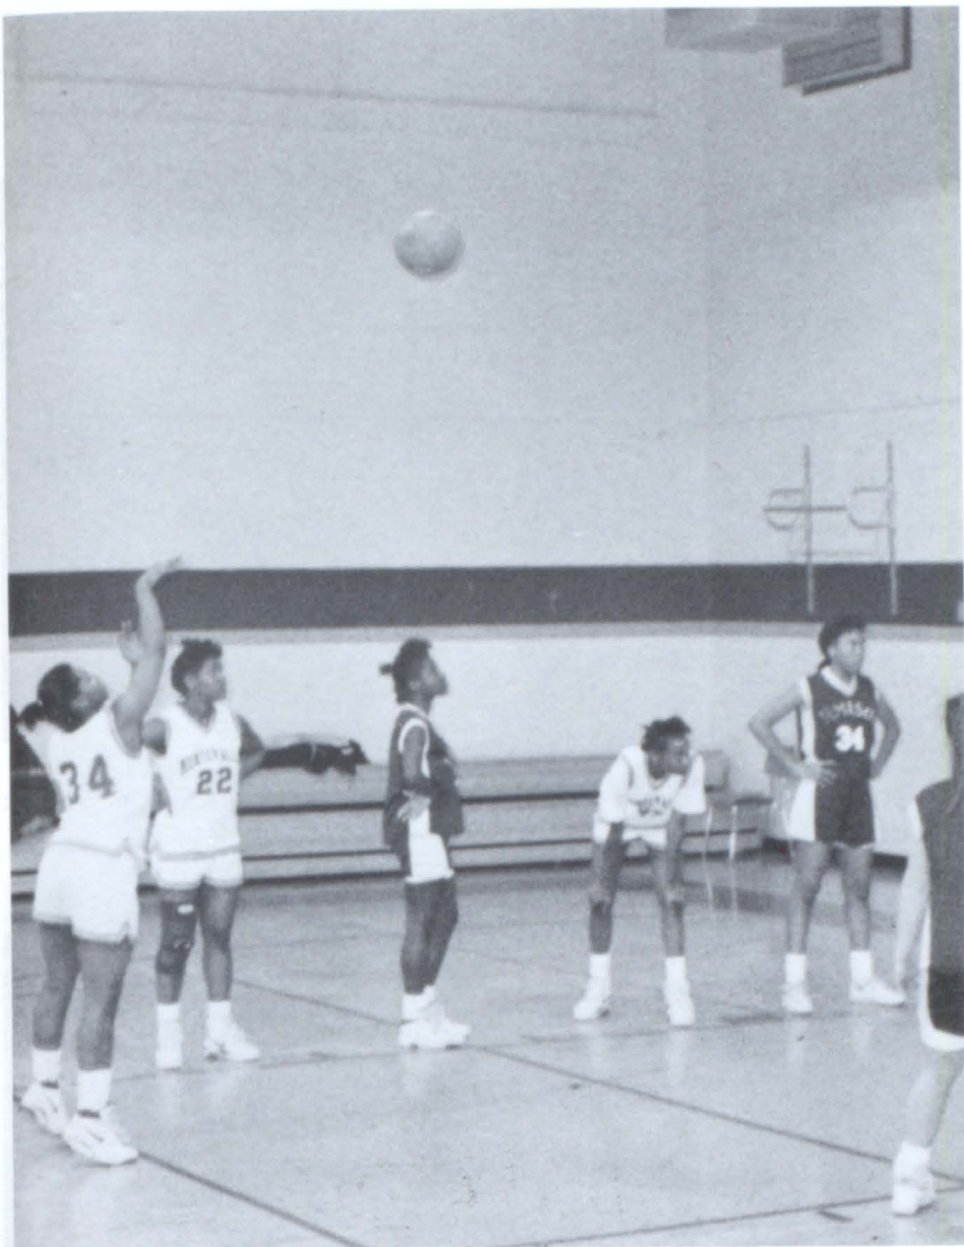

Johnye Horton led the girl's basketball team to victory after victory in the 1991-92 season.

Lea Gaddis prepares to pass to Rachel Brown.

Kristhun Hudson skillfully dribbles down the court.

Lea Gaddis shoots to knock down a free throw.

Players post-up after a Montevallo free throw.

HOOP — THERE IT IS!

The Montevallo High Basketball team had a fantastic season in 1992. The Cagers pulverized their opponents with a powerful inside game led by Michael Jones and Curtis Tyus. But when the two big men were cold, the Dogs had two great outside shooters; Jason Whitehurst and the ever dependable Ricardo Shack.

The 1991-92 MHS Cagers; Jeremy Broner, Jason Whitehurst, Andra Agee, Tony Honeycutt, David Moore, Mike Jones, Maurice Campbell, Curtis Tyus, Freddie Green, Eric Jones, Donald McKenzie — Mgr., Henry Jones — Mgr., Clifford DuBose — Mgr., and Coach Bobby Pierson.

Curtis Tyus steps up to the free-throw line for his two free shots.

Jason Whitehurst, Curtis Tyus, and Michael Jones show their aggressive defensive pressure.

Maurice Campbell attempts a three pointer during the Jemison game.

The Bulldogs prepare to warm-up before the game.

Although Mike Jones is covered by Jemison players, he shoots a perfect lay-up.

A dream is a wish your heart makes and you have always been filled with so many. You dreamed of being a model, a cheerleader, a dancer and a high school senior and these have all come true. You have so many more and if you keep on believing, the dreams that you wish will come true in the form of a beautiful daughter, granddaughter and niece that we have in you. We are so proud of you and love you more than you can ever know. May God Bless You.
